Small Spaces, Big Impact...

Here in the UK it's fair to say that many of our bathrooms can be described as compact rather than cavernous. But having a bathroom or cloakroom on the small side doesn't mean it should be any less beautiful or functional. Our Spring Bathroom Event is celebrating the 'bijou' with savings of up to 40% on our small space solutions, featuring exciting new products along with our most popular classic and contemporary ranges. With over 80 years experience in the bathroom industry, you can be sure that we know how to make the most of even the smallest of spaces.

DESIGN AT HART

Bathrooms are notoriously complex spaces to plan and execute – that's why we have a team of expert designers on hand to help you tailor your bathroom solution. Our Design Service will provide photo-realistic CGI imagery, detailed 2D plans and elevations of your final bathroom specification, so you can envisage what the finished room will look like down to the last detail. We can also provide specifications of the chosen products, product imagery and installation instructions to make it a smooth process for you and your chosen installer.

COMPACT CURVES

Shui is named after the Mandarin word for 'water', and will bring a sense of harmony and comfort to your bathroom. Available in 19 luxe finishes, from soft grey to forest green.

IN THE PINK

Case Study

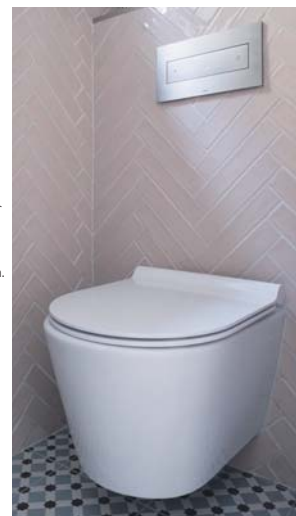

This cheerful cloakroom redesign by Emma Merry all started with a tap. Emma fell in love with the Axor Citterio E pillar mixer in brushed red gold for its unique and elegantly warm finish. It became the hero product of the scheme, detracting from the small size of the space. A mix of colour and pattern gives the cloakroom decorative flair; with blush pink glazed tiles and a delicately splattered wallpaper in blue proving an irresistible pairing. Catalano's Zone handbasin atop a handleless Plaza cupboard unit by Adatto Casa, along with Catalano's Zone compact WC give the space a neat, uncluttered feel.

MAIN IMAGE The new scheme packs a punch with an imaginative use of pale pink and blues.

ABOVE A focal point of the room is Emma's favourite Axor Citterio E tap in brushed red gold.

RIGHT The Zone Compact WC has a shorter depth than a standard model, making it a good choice for a small bathroom.

DEVON SENT

Interior designer Siobhan Hayles knows how to make an impact. This characterful shower room in a luxury holiday cottage within Dartmoor National Park might be on the narrow side, but Siobhan made the most of the high ceilings with statement lights and metro tiling as a juxtaposition to the wonky original stone walls of the barn. A wetroom-style shower with a matt black Vola shower head opens up the space and continues the striking monochrome palette. Large format slate flooring is a practical choice with fewer grout lines to keep clean, while keeping the 'cottagey' aesthetic running through the property, and barn cladding improves the insulation qualities in the room.

TOP Siobhan opened up the small space by installing a wetroom-style shower.
RIGHT Large slate tiles are the perfect match against the original stone walls.
