Heritage and Service

Heritage

Charles Percival Hart started his business in 1937. From the earliest days, assisted by his sons John and Tom, he built his company by specifying and sourcing the world's most innovative and durable bathroom products – often commissioning exceptional product designers, always from the highest quality manufacturers. That ethos continues today. The business is still privately owned and has become Britain's most respected luxury bathroom retailer.

Design Service

If you are planning to renovate your bathroom, our Professional Design Service would be an excellent place to start. Details can be obtained in any showroom. Please make an appointment with one of our qualified Bathroom Designers to guide you through the buying process, arrange a home survey and produce a tailor-made design pack with drawings, elevations and itemised quotation.

Installation

The finest bathrooms are always distinguished by exceptional fit and finish. Installing a new bathroom is one of the more complex projects in any home: knowledge, experience and attention to detail are vital.

At C.P. Hart our aim is to create exceptional bathrooms for all our clients. We do not install bathrooms but we have developed an Approved Installer Service to introduce our clients to a select group of installation experts, each one vetted by C.P. Hart and accredited by manufacturers.

Please obtain details from your Sales Consultant in any C.P. Hart showroom.

Welcome

Welcome to our Winter Sale! You will find significant discounts on many of our most sought-after ranges, including premium products from Duravit, Hansgrohe and C.P. Hart's own classical London range.

Our aim has been to include items from all our main styles – from classical and traditional, through contemporary to cutting edge. The Winter Sale includes sanitaryware, brassware, bathroom furniture and accessories.

Browse this guide for ideas and inspiration, or better still speak to one of our experienced sales consultants in a C.P. Hart showroom. They will be delighted to help you translate your ideas into a practical and inspirational design, as well as demonstrating the build quality and finishes of our product collections.
